

Robustness audits separate temporal grounding from full intent

